

Design Assignment - Week 4 Day 3

Another day, another website recreation, but this time you would be designing an entire page instead of a small section. It is a minimalistic magazine website, where it displays news on random topics. The website is linked below. To get the images, just right click on the particular image and save it, then upload the same inside figma. Downloading the figma file would be fine. Look out for even the smallest detail and draw them. Look at every single component in all the corners.

Website link - <http://themebubble.com/demo/webify/minimal-magazine>

Recreating existing websites like this will definitely sharpen your eye for good design.