Assignment Week 3 Day 3

Welcome to your very assignment for this week. As we had discussed during the session, you will be replicating a design image whose dimensions would be given. As you have 3 days, I think this assignment will make your HTML and CSS (Even SCSS) skills strong enough before your monthly test. I will paste the files in the drive. You will get a base index.html, images for the required design, style guide as well. In the style guide you will get the necessary colors, type of font, base width and so on. This is literally how a take home project will look like. Hence I wanted to replicate the exact scenario.

Further instructions are written inside instructions.md. I personally feel that this would be a best way to learn SCSS as well, as you have some repeated elements as well. Try to replicate the design as exact as possible.

Look for the folder naming Week3Day3Assets.zip file outside of this document (Google Drive). Download them and push the same. Good luck :)
